(Root) DNS Server
1.Right-click the root zone, click New Delegation, and then click Next.
2.Type the domain name for the child domain, and then click Next.
3.Add the child DNS server to host the new zone, and then click

a static Transport Control Protocol/Internet Protocol (TCP/IP) address. Verify that this step is performed before you install DNS on the child domain controller. If no DNS TCP/IP address exists, DNS is installed as a root server. If you see that a "." folder is created after you install DNS, you must remove the root configuration. For additional information about how to
