After implementing full Oracle Data Redaction, you change the default value for the NUMBER data type as follows:

After changing the value, you notice that FULL redaction continues to redact numeric data with zero.

What must you do to activate the new default value for numeric full redaction?

- A. Re-connect the sessions that access objects with redaction policies defined on them.
- B. Restart the database instance.
- C. Re-enable redaction policies that use FULL data redaction.
- D. Re-create redaction policies that use FULL data redaction.
- E. Flush the shared pool.

Answer: B

Explanation:

About Altering the Default Full Data Redaction Value You can alter the default displayed values for full Data Redaction policies. By default, 0 is the redacted value when Oracle Database performs full redaction (DBMS_REDACT.FULL) on a column of the NUMBER data type. If you want to change it to another value (for example, 7), then you can run the DBMS_REDACT.UPDATE_FULL_REDACTION_VALUES procedure to modify this value. The modification applies to all of the Data Redaction policies in the current database instance. After you modify a value, you must restart the database for it to take effect.

Note: *The DBMS_REDACT package provides an interface to Oracle Data Redaction, which enables you to mask (redact) data that is returned from queries issued by low-privileged users or an application. *UPDATE_FULL_REDACTION_VALUES Procedure This procedure modifies the default displayed values for a Data Redaction policy for full redaction.

*After you create the Data Redaction policy, it is automatically enabled and ready to redact data.
*Oracle Data Redaction enables you to mask (redact) data that is returned from queries issued by low-privileged users or applications. You can redact column data by using one of the following methods:
/Full redaction. /Partial redaction. /Regular expressions.
/Random redaction. /No redaction.
