NEW QUESTION: 1

Which two communication methods are used by which components in the Enterprise manager Architecture for the Database Machine?

- A. SNMP traps for alerts are sent by the storage server MS process to the enterprise Manager agent
- B. SNMP traps for alerts are sent by the storage server ILOM to the storage server MS process
- C. SNMP traps for alerts are sent by the storage server ILOM to the Enterprise Manager agent.
- D. SNMP traps for alerts are sent by the storage server ILOM to the storage server RS process.
- E. SNMP traps for alerts are sent by the storage server MS process to the storage server ILOM

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

There are two types of server alerts that come from Oracle Exadata Storage Server:

*(A) For Integrated Lights Out Manager (ILOM)-monitored hardware components, ILOM reports a failure or threshold exceeded condition as an SNMP trap, which is received by MS. MS processes the trap, creates an alert for the storage server, and delivers the alert via SNMP to Oracle Enterprise Manager 12c.

*(D) For MS-monitored hardware and software components, MS processes a failure or threshold exceeded condition for these components, creates an alert, and delivers the alert via SNMP to Oracle Enterprise Manager Cloud Control 12c.

NEW QUESTION: 2

What is Amazon CloudFront?

- A. A global Content Delivery Network
- B. An encrypted endpoint to upload files to the Cloud
- C. A web service to schedule regular data movement
- D. A development front-end to Amazon Web Services

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

Amazon CloudFront is a global content delivery network (CDN) service that accelerates delivery of your websites, APIs, video content or other web assets through CDN caching. It integrates with other Amazon Web Services products to give developers and businesses an easy way to accelerate content to end users with no minimum usage commitments.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Refer to the exhibit.

Which two are causes of output queue drops on FastEthernet0/0? (Choose two.)

- A. a duplex mismatch on FastEthernet0/0
- B. The router trying to send more than 100 Mb/s out of FastEthernet0/0
- C. an oversubscribed input service policy on FastEthernet0/0
- D. an oversubscribed output service policy on FastEthernet0/0
- E. a bad cable connected to FastEthernet0/0

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Output drops are caused by a congested interface. For example, the traffic rate on the outgoing interface cannot accept all packets that should be sent out, or a service policy is applied that is oversubscribed. The ultimate solution to resolve the problem is to increase the line speed. However, there are ways to prevent, decrease, or control output drops when you do not want to increase the line speed. You can prevent output drops only if output drops are a consequence of short bursts of data. If output drops are caused by a constant high-rate flow, you cannot prevent the drops. However, you can control them.
