NEW QUESTION: 4

Refer to Scenario 3.

A US company has deployed web services within a private cloud. They wish to provide additional web services elastically and distribute them around the globe using a public cloud provider. The web services have a dependency on a database resource in the private cloud. The web services are deployed through a service catalog as a standardized service offering, which includes an intrusion prevention system that periodically polls a central management server for security updates. The IPS management server is located within the private cloud. The web services collect highly regulated personal health information about consumers who are located around the world.

Which solution would you recommend to best support the web service high availability and minimize service network latency for the consumer?

- A. Implement a Layer 7 firewall within the public cloud to filter out unnecessary traffic.
- B. Implement a QoS policy that provides a higher priority to http traffic.
- C. Implement a global load balancing service as a front-end for the web services.
- D. Use a content delivery network to distribute static web content.

Answer: C
