NEW QUESTION: 3
You have an Azure subscription named Subscription1.
Subscription1 contains the resources in the following table.

In Azure, you create a private DNS zone named adatum.com. You set the registration virtual network to VNet2. The adatum.com zone is configured as shown in the following exhibit.

For each of the following statements, select Yes if the statement is true. Otherwise, select No.
NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:
Explanation:

Explanation:
Box 1: No
Azure DNS provides automatic registration of virtual machines from a single virtual network that's linked to a private zone as a registration virtual network. VM5 does not belong to the registration virtual network though.
Box 2: No
Forward DNS resolution is supported across virtual networks that are linked to the private zone as resolution virtual networks. VM5 does belong to a resolution virtual network.
Box 3: Yes
VM6 belongs to registration virtual network, and an A (Host) record exists for VM9 in the DNS zone.
By default, registration virtual networks also act as resolution virtual networks, in the sense that DNS resolution against the zone works from any of the virtual machines within the registration virtual network.

NEW QUESTION: 4
What Is the Author Asking for?
The President in Washington sends word that he wishes to buy our land. But how can you buy or sell the sky? The land? The idea is strange to us. If we do not own the freshness of the air and the sparkle of the water, how can you buy them?
Every part of this earth is sacred to my people. Every shining pine needle, every sandy shore, every mist in dark woods, every meadow, every humming insect. All are holy in the memory and experience of my people.
We know the sap which courses through the trees as we know the blood that courses through our veins.
We are part of the earth and it is part of us. The perfumed flowers are our sisters. The bear, the deer, the great eagle, these are our brothers. The rocky crests, the juices in the meadow, the body heat of the pony, and man, all belong to the same family.
The shining water that moves in the streams and rivers is not just water, but the blood of our ancestors. If we sell you our land, you must remember that it is sacred. Each ghostly reflection in the clear water of the lakes tells of events and memories in the life of my people. The water's murmur is the voice of my father's father.
The rivers are our brothers. They quench our thirst. They carry out canoes and feed our children. So you must give to the rivers the kindness you would give any brother. If we sell you our land, remember that the air is precious to us, that the air shares its spirit with all the life it supports. The wind that gave our grandfather his first breath also receives his last sigh. The wind also gives our children the spirit of life. So, if we sell you our land, you must keep it apart and sacred, as a place where man can go to taste the wind that is sweetened by the meadow flowers.
Will you teach your children what we have taught our children? That the earth is our mother? What befalls the earth, befalls all sons of the earth. This we know: The earth does not belong to man, man belongs to the earth. All things are connected like the blood which unites us all.
- Chief Seattle, from "This We Know" (1854)
Former president Ronald Reagan is recorded as having said, "If you've seen one tree, you've seen them all."How does this idea compare with the ideas of Chief Seattle?
A. They express essentially opposite attitudes toward the land.
B. They express essentially the same attitude toward the land.
C. We cannot compare them, because Chief Seattle does not talk about trees.

D. Chief Seattle would agree that trees are all alike, but he would not want them cut down.
E. Reagan seems to care more about the land than Chief Seattle.
Answer: A
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Explanation:
For Chief Seattle, every part of nature was sacred. "We know the sap which courses through the trees as we know the blood that courses through our veins," he writes in lines 11-13, suggesting that each tree is important and valuable. This directly contrasts the indifference of Reagan's statement, so choice a is incorrect, and so is choice e. Reagan does not seem to care about the land, so choice c is also incorrect. Chief Seattle does talk about trees, as noted above, so choice d is incorrect.
