NEW QUESTION: 2
Which two statements about NetFlow are true? (Choose two.)
A. It supports ATM LAN emulation.
B. It uses SIP to establish sessions between neighbors.
C. The existing network is unaware that NetFlow is running.
D. It must be configured on each router in a network.
E. It provides resource utilization accounting.
Answer: C,E Explanation:
NetFlow identifies packet flows for both ingress and egress IP packets. It does not involve any connection-setup protocol, either between routers or to any other networking device or end station. NetFlow does not require any change externally--either to the packets themselves or to any networking device. NetFlow is completely transparent to the existing network, including end stations and application software and network devices like LAN switches. Also,

NetFlow capture and export are performed independently on each internetworking device; NetFlow need not be operational on each router in the network.
NetFlow data provides fine-grained metering for highly flexible and detailed resource utilization accounting. For example, flow data includes details such as IP addresses, packet and byte counts, timestamps, type-of-service, and application ports. Service providers might utilize the information for billing based on time-of-day, bandwidth usage, application usage, or quality of service. Enterprise customers might utilize the information for departmental chargeback or cost allocation for resource utilization.
