Which of the following statements about the Delphi technique is false?

A. It takes place in a single round.

B. It allows for a broad range of perspectives.

C. It is a convenient form of qualitative analysis when participants are distant.

D. The participants remain anonymous.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation: The Delphi technique requires several rounds of questioning before a consensus is reached. In this method of decisionmaking, a panel of anonymous experts is given a short questionnaire. Their written responses are subjected to another series of questions. This process continues until a consensus is reached. The Delphi technique is good for getting a wide range of honest perspectives, and is convenient when the participants are geographically distant from one another.
